

Island Constraints in the Mainland Scandinavian Languages

Time: May 12-13, 2016

Location: Room H339, Centre for Languages and Literature, Lund University

Workshop Programme

Thursday, May 12

13.00 Workshop opening

13.05-14.05 Invited speaker: Björn Lundqvist (University of Tromsø)

Default Expectations and Priming in the Processing of Complex Sentences in English and Norwegian

14.05-15.05 Christiane Müller (Lund University)

Adjunct islands – the case of Mainland Scandinavian

Coffee

15.30-16.30 Fredrik Heinat & Eva Klingvall (Lund University)

Superadditivity, working memory, and island effects

18.00 Dinner

Friday, May 13

10.00-11.00 Damon Tutunjian & Anna-Lena Wiklund (Lund University)

The role of non-structural factors in the processing of long-distance filler-gap dependencies in Swedish – Two eye tracking studies

Coffee

11.30-12.30 Invited speaker: Ken Ramshøj Christensen (Aarhus University)

Experimental syntax and island extractions in Danish

12.30-12.35 Workshop closing

Invited speakers:

Associate Professor Ken Ramshøj Christensen,
Department of Aesthetics and Communication (DAC), Section for English, Aarhus University,
MINDLab / Center for Functionally Integrative Neuroscience (CFIN), Aarhus University
Hospital, DK

Ph.D. Björn Lundquist, Department of Language and Linguistics, University of Tromsø, NO

Organizers:

Anna-Lena Wiklund, Fredrik Heinat, Eva Klingvall, Damon Tutunjian